SEPTEMBER 20 - 21, 2019

WENATCHEE, WA

At the WABE Fall Institute we'll explore ways to support our English learners affected by interrupted schooling, trauma, and disabilities with effective social-emotional learning programs and academic strategies.

This Institute is open to all with an interest in providing successful pathways for ELs with a variety of additional social or academic challenges, both inside and outside of the classroom.

ROBERTO ELIZONDO

Roberto has recently been named superintendent at Touchet School District in Walla Walla. He was a migrant worker for over 17 years, followed the migrant circuit in Washington State, and lost his brother to drugs and false hope. He knows the issues we are dealing with first hand - come learn from his critical perspective.

THE CUBAN GUY

At the age of 16 he escaped from Cuba. He arrived to America not knowing a word of English, without his parents, without any money, and was even homeless for a while. How did he go from living his worst nightmare to living his dream? Join us to find out.
