KEYNOTE SPEAKERS

DR. OKHEE LEE

Okhee Lee is a professor in the Steinhardt School of Culture, Education, and Human Development at New York University. She is currently leading collaborative research between New York University and Stanford University to develop instructional materials aligned with the Next Generation Science Standards (NGSS) in order to promote science learning and language learning of elementary students including English learners.

DR. CONCEPCIÓN MOLINA

Concepción Molina is a senior technical assistance consultant at the American Institutes for Research (AIR). His experience as a student with limited English helped create a unique perspective that led to the development of multiple professional development trainings focused on the impact of language in the learning and instruction of mathematics.
